

CONFEDERATE TREASURY NOTES

We have been promoting CSA Paper Money in these ads, for the past two months, with considerable success. This, in spite of it being considered a slow series. The most gratifying part of our response has been from people looking for a new field to collect. They like the idea of the ways that they can collect . . . by types, by varieties, or by a combination of both. It thrills them to think that major varieties such as errors and very rare watermarks can be found as "sleepers," and that varieties with fantastic errors, new series, and other unpublished items are still being discovered. These beginners in paper money, recognize that Confederate notes are easy to keep, easy to show to their friends, simple to display. They understand that the series can be both moderate and high in price . . . that there are notes to fit every pocketbook.

CSA Paper has been studied and seriously collected for over eighty-five years. The available data, background material and literature is almost unlimited. It is in the same class as Colonial and Continental Currency and Fractional Currency. Each Confederate Treasury Note represents a page of history . . . part of it transmitted to the viewer at a glance, much more to be revealed with a little study.

Interest in Confederate Paper Money is presently quiet. Judging from the want-lists that we have received recently, the series may be dormant, but interest is far from dead. We have honestly been surprised by many of the letters sent in response to our ads. Several writers, in commenting upon what we have had to say, feel that it is only a matter of time before the "sleeping giant" awakens. When you consider that many Confederate rarities, of which fewer than a dozen are known, sell for less than the price of a 1931 "S" Lincoln Cent (of which well over 100,000 exist in Mint State), their argument makes sense.

The time to collect anything is when interest is limited, material still available, and prices reasonable. We have a fine stock of CSA Paper, and are continuing to add to it. Our selling prices are truly competitive, and, for the overpriced material, undoubtedly the lowest in the country. We like to specialize in — to promote — a series that others are presently neglecting. We have served serious collectors for over twenty-five years . . . by not only selling fine material at fair prices, but by offering sound advice and honest counsel.

Your want-list of CSA Paper Money, or your comments, would be appreciated.

AMERICAN NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION

The American Numismatic Association, an educational and nonprofit organization, is the largest and most active numismatic body in the world. It invites and welcomes to membership all worthy persons seventeen years of age or over, who have a sincere interest in numismatics, whether they collect coins, paper money, tokens or medals, whether advanced collectors or only those generally interested in the subject without being collectors. The Association was founded in 1891, and has about 25,000 members from every state in the Union and many foreign countries. It was chartered for fifty years by Act of Congress May 9, 1912; renewed in perpetuity by Act of Congress April 10, 1962 and is a mutual organization for the benefit of its members.

All Association members, except Associate, receive the official publication, The Numismatist, without cost other than their annual dues. Membership applications should be accompanied by $5.00 for the first year's dues and $2.00 admittance fee. Annual dues are $5.00. Nonmember subscription, $6.00. Single copy, fifty cents. For application blanks, subscriptions or general information, write to the General Secretary.

The Numismatist is an illustrated monthly which has been issued continuously since its founding in 1888, consists of 144 pages or more in each number with subscribers in about sixty countries. Advertising inquiries should be sent to the Advertising Manager. All other matters for possible publication in or concerning The Numismatist are to be forwarded to the Editor. Unsolicited manuscripts, which are sent at the owner's risk, and other correspondence calling for a reply must be accompanied by stamped, self-addressed envelopes. Opinions expressed in articles published in The Numismatist are those of the authors and do not necessarily represent the views of the American Numismatic Association or the Editor.

COUNTERFEIT COINS OF ALTO PERU

By

ALAN K. CRAIG, A.N.A. No. 10211

DURING the course of history it is seldom that coins have ever been counterfeited in greater amounts than were produced in Alto Peru. "Upper Peru" is the name which was given to a mountainous section of Spanish America which now forms part of Bolivia, Ecuador and Peru. From shortly after the arrival of the conquistador Pizarro to the present, counterfeiting and debasement have continued on a scale that is truly amazing.

To appreciate the problems involved in a study of counterfeit cobs it is necessary to have some idea of how legitimate coins were made. To be frank, it may be said that these processes are not yet fully understood. Several very logical theories have been published but they seem to be lacking in certain essential points. Based on the following observations, it is the writer's opinion that more than one method was used, which may possibly account for some of the differences to be found in previous explanations.

From popular accounts such as *Crónicas Potosinas*¹ we know that silver ore from the magnificent mines of Cerro Potosí was crushed by hand and then amalgamated with mercury. Distillation of the amalgam, with a loss of mercury nearly equal to the weight of silver, resulted in a bullion or pasta. This pasta was then melted in small ovens and finally cast into bars of more or less standard size. These bars were roughly assayed by each mine owner and eventually sold to the Mint, where they were subjected to a more careful analysis before being approved for coinage.

There is no evidence that these bars were cast into thicknesses suitable for immediate conversion into planchets. In the early days it seems most likely that they were beaten out in the form of sheets and cut with chisel and maul to make the tejuelos (blanks) which were deliberately left oversize. Punches as well as dies were sometimes used to transfer the designs, and at this stage it was not uncommon for large cracks to appear in the planchets. Heavy shears were used to reduce the coins to acceptable weights. Early writers have often referred to cobs as monedas de tijera or "scissored coins."

A glance at the illustrations in catalogs by Yriarte² and Herrera³ will show that there are essentially two general types of cob coins. Some specimens are made from relatively circular planchets of fairly even thickness and show much more attention to fine details of die work. They are sharply struck and often contain most of the legend. Examples of this type which have not been holed are exceedingly difficult to find.

The second variety, which may have an identical date, is considerably more misshapen, having all the cracks, dents and engraving irregularities that are typical of more carelessly made cobs. It is apparent that they were mass produced without regard to appearance as long as they were acceptable to the Chief Weigher of the Mint.

Fig. 1. Twice actual size.

An example of a two reales cob struck in Potosí during the reign of Felipe II (1555-1598) is shown in Figure No. 1. It illustrates the relatively careful work of this period as compared to the crude efforts which followed during the time of Felipe III (1598-1621). The planchet of this coin is unusually round and thin, being larger in diameter than some of the later eight reales cobs. It is the writer's impression that coins of this type were a form of "custom made" pieces turned out on a very limited basis for purposes which are still not fully understood. Possibly they were made of Felipe II and Felipe III are distinctly saucer-shaped, an indication that a certain process was used which we do not find in later issues. From about the year 1640, pieces of eight were commonly made from larger for payments of an international nature where confidence in the coinage was necessary. Perhaps they were presentation pieces. It is clear that they were not intended as assay specimens, as the description of this process by Vignale⁴ indicates they were drawn at random from current production, cut into as many as five parts, and then separately assayed by three Mint officials.

A number of basic differences can be seen in the shape of eight reales cobs struck over a period of some two hundred years. Coins from the period planchets whose thin edges are often sharply cut in contrast to the blunt margins of the earlier coins. At the beginning of the Eighteenth Century a third change took place in production methods, as planchets became very small and correspondingly thicker. The obverse is occasionally quite flat, while the reverse shows any number of hammer blows and cut surfaces made after the design had been impressed.

With tremendous quantities of coins in circulation, no two of which were identical, it is little wonder that counterfeiting and debasement became such a widespread occupation of the early Colonists. Before an explanation is given as to the means of distinguishing true from false, we should consider some of the motives behind these counterfeiting activities. They can be conveniently divided into the following classifications:

TYPE I. Unauthorized private issues made before the establishment of Mints at Lima and Potosi. The silver was completely unassayed and the coins are known as "pieces of nine." They may be considered a form of necessity money.

TYPE II. Counterfeit cobs of legal weight and fineness made by mine owners in an attempt to avoid paying the royal tax and seniorage charged by the Mint.⁵

TYPE III. Debased coins made in great quantities by unscrupulous Mint officials and known colloquially as rochas or macuquinas.

TYPE IV. Present day castings of highly debased silver made by jewelers in an attempt to meet the continuing demand for decorative ch'askas or for occasional sale to tourists as "antiques."

A review of these classifications shows at once that the most dangerous form of counterfeit is missing. While examining several thousand cobs from Lima and Potosi, the writer has never seen an example of a deliberate attempt to falsify a coin of considerable numismatic value. Such counterfeits, if they exist, are probably not being made in South America. However, this does not mean to say that restrikes have not been made of the rarer dates. Quesada⁶ states that in the Eighteenth Century a certain number were struck from dies that were found in storage and later destroyed. These restrikes were delivered to collectors who, even at that early time, were interested in preserving examples of historic interest.

The detection of counterfeit cobs is not as difficult as it would seem providing that the collector is fully aware of what constitutes a correct legend and design. The process of inspection is quite simple: First, the coin in question should be viewed under magnification of at least 10X (30X is preferable). Any coin which has been made by casting is patently false and the tell-tale pin holes left by sand grains from a mould will be very conspicuous.

Almost all cast coins are of Type IV. Figure No. 2 shows a variety of minor cobs from several periods with the legitimate original to the left and a recent casting to the right.

It has long been the custom of South American Indians to decorate their holiday costumes with silver coins as a sign of wealth. Large cobs with the prominent cross of Jerusalem have always been favorites and are known in the Quechua language as ch'askas. In recent times they have become very scarce, giving rise to a form of falsification which is not intended to fool the numismatist. On the contrary, since these cast coins are invariably patterned after genuine pieces which are used to form the mould, it can be said that they are occasionally useful in pointing out the existence of dates which might otherwise have been unknown to collectors.

Differences in the initials of ensayadores (assayers) do not necessarily mean that a given coin is counterfeit. These unfortunate officials were sometimes hanged on short notice for suspected derelictions. There are several instances where as many as three different initials can be found for the same year. Reversed "P's" on obverses and reverses (see Yriarte's Nos. 454, 508) were probably used to distinguish between Mint marks and identical assayer's initials, as it is always the right hand "P" which is reversed. Monogrammed initials are also known but no special significance is attached to them.

When all diagnostic details of a legend have been obliterated, a legiti-⁵Mine owners were granted royal permits for the exploitation of their mines in return for which they were required to give one-fifth (later one-tenth) of their production to the Crown. Seigniorage was charged at the rate of two reals for each Spanish marco assayed. Thus, by adopting a "do-it-yourself" attitude, owners could realize a savings of 23%, which was more than enough to encourage this practice.

⁶*Cronicas Potosinas*, op. cit.

mate cob from Potosi can often be identified if the numeral "4" is still visible. For some peculiar reason, this number was usually engraved in a distinctive manner not common to any other Mint. A typical example is shown in Figure No. 3, which is an enlargement of the center of an eight reales coin from the year 1684. The engraving may best be described as a "swollen" four, as there is a definite outward bulge to the bar connecting the stem and crosslet. Counterfeiters apparently did not make this fine distinction in their work.

It is sometimes possible to identify Lima cobs solely on the basis of the style in which cornices of the pillars of Hercules have been engraved. For many years they were cut in a more ornate and artistic manner than at Potosi. There are many other minor differences in engraving which are characteristic of these two Mints, but the scope of this article does not permit such detailed explanations.

With regard to the absence of certain dates in the catalogs of Yriarte and Herrera, it should be pointed out that neither is complete and the presence of an unrecorded cob in a collection does not necessarily mean that it is a counterfeit. Recently the writer has had occasion to discover and authenticate Potosi cobs of eight reales of 1705, 1713, 1720 and 1731. Any coin from the year 1720 is surprising by its very existence, as it is known that a disastrous epidemic occurred in the latter part of 1719 which killed nearly all the Spanish population of Potosi. Mint operations were shut down for a considerable length of time but apparently they were able to replace sufficient personnel to produce some coins the following year.

Certain years, such as 1652 and 1671, are notable for the suspicious appearance of their coins, which are unusual in certain aspects. The year 1652 was a time of transition from the old design to that of columns and waves. Examples of all denominations are difficult to find and they show a confusing variety of design innovations. Apparently the engravers were somewhat in doubt of the correct manner of interpreting the King's instructions and did some experimentation before deciding which design to follow. Figure No. 4 shows two varieties of one real cobs, neither of which was finally adopted. Yriarte's illustration No. 204 clearly shows an experimental eight reales of this same year.

Fig. 5. Twice actual size.

Coins struck in 1671 are of a peculiar appearance due to the excellence of their dies. Figure No. 5 shows this remarkable sharpness of date which causes them to be conspicuous among their less carefully made neighbors. For some unknown reason, production at Potosi was very high during this year and these cobs may be considered as some of the most common of the entire series.

Dated cobs from either Mint before 1600 should be treated with great caution, as it is almost certain that they will be counterfeits. It was not the custom to date such coins during the Sixteenth Century. The earliest known dates are 1617 for Potosi and 1659 for Lima.

Gold cobs were never made at Potosi. There is ample evidence⁷ to show that the first gold was struck in 1778 using the well known bust design of Carol III. In spite of all evidence to the contrary, a number of gold cobs have been offered for sale at very fancy prices and described as products of the Potosi Mint. All have been misidentified, as have cob doubloons attributed to the Lima Mint. In point of fact, all these coins were made at the Cuzco Mint, as a strict division of labor existed between the coining of gold and silver in Alto Peru. It was not considered economical to transport (and refine) gold from mines which were located a great distance from either city. New discoveries and improved methods of refining eventually made it possible to strike gold at all three mints, as well as at Santiago de Chile, but this was several years after the production of cobs had ceased.

Listing of coins with reversed castles and lions should also be given careful consideration. It seems likely that many of them are examples of Type II counterfeits by careless engravers, as they often contain mistakes in the spelling of the legend as well. With the system of controls in force at the official Mints, it seems most unlikely that such a series of errors would escape the eyes of so many inspectors.

Coins of short weight, or flebes as they were known, are not necessarily counterfeits but are probably clipped.

The grano de oro and the grano de plata weighed 0.0499 grams. Prior to 1731 the grano de oro weighed 0.0479 grams. Gold was struck at the rate of 68 escudos to the mark, and silver at the rate of 68 reales to the mark. The standard weight of the coined onza de oro (8 escudos) and of the onza de plata (8 reales) is 27.064 grams, but they vary as much as a gram. The libra is a theoretical coinage weight which came down through the years from the ancient Greeks and Romans. It equals 2 marcos or 460.093 grams, approximately a pound.

The maravedí is a copper coin (moneda de vellon) which has had an extremely checkered career. In 1497 the value of the maravedí was established at 34 to the real de plata. After many changes in value over the years, in 1728 the Spanish real de plata was given the value of 64 maravedies, while the Spanish American real de plata was given the value of 80 maravedies. In 1737 the maravedí was further devalued to 68 maravedies for the Spanish real and to 85 maravedies for the Spanish American real.

Few exceedingly lightweight and obviously debased cobs have survived over the years as they were usually remelted by the unfortunate recipients. However, as the chart in Figure No. 6 shows, fluctuations in average weight were common and not restricted to any one period. A more extensive sampling covering all denominations would undoubtedly show some correlation with certain years in which dishonest mint officials were known to be active, for example, circa 1645.

Literature which has been published on the subject of weights and fineness is at times confusing. Tables show some of the more common terms which are likely to be encountered in reference material. [See page 1607.]

Constant references to counterfeit-that not one of them cared to receive it and he requested that his (the Viceroy's) orders be given that they must be accepted in trade. The Viceroy did not give the orders which he asked but offered to change the five thousand pesos for others of Mexico. Neither did this have effect because at the time when the exchange was to be verified there was a notice that in the same fleet various merchants had brought more than three hundred thousand of the same Peruvian pesos and that by the road from Guatemala came (pack trains) of burros with great quantities of them. The Viceroy did not have official notice of the new strikings nor orders to receive the money and it was furthermore prohibited to trade with Perú and in order to protect his responsibilities in ing and debasement can be found in the works of early writers. One very interesting account was transcribed by Herrera (op. cit., pp. 14-15) and is translated, somewhat freely, by the writer as follows:

"The Duke of Albuquerque was Viceroy in Mexico (1653-1660) when the Sergeant Major, Don Francisco de Paz Granados, arrived in Acapulco by (courtesy of) the Admiral of the South Sea in order to accompany the Count of Alba de Liste to Perú as (the new) Governor. On landing, he met with merchants who did not wish to receive any of the Peruvian money that he brought and, in consequence, he presented a memorandum describing this situation to the Viceroy, saying that the Count of Salvatierra had given him five thousand pesos of the new money for relief of sailors and this matter he passed the case to the Exchequer of the Court."

It is possible that the coins mentioned in this report may have been suspect because they were of the new design begun in 1652. Another likely possibility is that they were a small part of the infamous "rochas" made in Potosí a few years earlier by one of the most ambitious counterfeiting gangs in history.

In the year 1645, Don Francisco Rocha was Mayor of Potosí and from all accounts a rather devious fellow. Over a period of several years he organized a group of counterfeiters, recruiting members from among the employees and officials of the Mint. According to Martinez y Vela there may have been as many as 180 individuals involved over a period of time in these operations.

It soon became evident that the Mint was turning out coins which were heavily debased with copper. Public indignation eventually caused the arrest of 43 suspects, including Rocha. Being forewarned, he was able to hide much of the incriminating evidence in the form of over 6,000,000 debased pieces of eight, as well as the dies and machinery. This fortune still remains undiscovered but is believed to be hidden in a cave near Potosí.

The official assayer Ramirez, whose name may be added to the list contained in Herrera, was promptly hanged by the Royal judge. Rocha was able to save his life temporarily by paying a heavy bribe disguised as an official penalty tax. A short time later he was publicly garroted in the main square of Potosí, accused by the judge of plotting to kill him by placing powdered diamonds in his food.

As a result of the trials, a proclamation was issued which directed that all private funds be submitted to the new mint officials for inspection and analysis of fineness in order to stamp out the last remnants of debased coinage. Fearing that this was only a ruse to hide some new form of taxation, the citizens of Potosí are said to have buried their hoards of silver in amounts that are impossible to calculate. Nevertheless, Mint records show that approximately 36,000,000 pesos were recovered in compliance with this proclamation.

From these two examples we can begin to appreciate the vast scale of counterfeiting in colonial Spanish America. Happily enough, there are few traces left and those which remain are seldom encountered by the average collector.

The improper identification of cob doubloons mentioned in this article is an understandable error, no doubt due to the lack of reliable reference material in the English language. It is to be hoped that the present paper may improve these circumstances and provide some useful information for those who are interested in Spanish colonial coinage, one of our broadest and most rewarding fields of numismatics.

ADDENDUM

The writer would like to call attention once more to the recent publication of a famous series of articles and documents by Pedro Vicente Cañete y Domínguez entitled Gufa de la Provincia de Potosí - 1787 which has been made available to the public through the efforts of Sr. Don Armando Alba, Prefect of Potosí and Director of the National Mint. This massive volume of 838 pages contains information concerning all phases of early Mint activities and is absolutely essential to any serious study of cob coinage. As this unique reference is sold at a price of less than three dollars (plus mailing charges), it is indeed a worthwhile addition to numismatic libraries.

Sr. Alba has asked the writer to please notify the numismatists of all countries, and particularly those of the United States, that the Bolivian government no longer produces coins at the Potosí Mint and that it is, therefore, impossible to comply with nor to answer all of the hundreds of requests for coins.

NOTES FROM THE LIBRARIAN

The following have been added to our shelves and should be entered in the new library catalog soon to be released:

N-79 Newman, Eric P., and Bressett, Kenneth. The Fantastic 1804 Dollar

Dinner in Little Rock

An appreciation dinner was held in Little Rock, Arkansas on the evening of November 5th. The occasion was to honor Senator John L. McClellan and Congressman Wilbur D. Mills in recognition of their keen interest in the passage of the congressional bill granting perpetual succession of the Federal Charter of the American Numismatic Association. The original Charter was for a duration of fifty years and would have expired on May 9th of this year.

President Shroyer was on hand to present Honorary Membership Certificates to Senator McClellan and Congressman Mills. It is regrettable that illness prevented Congressman Mills attending the dinner to receive his Certificate in person.

CORRECTION

Just before the article, "Some New Facts About an Old American Coin — The 1804 Dollar," by D. F. Spink and J. C. Risk appeared in the November issue of The Numismatist, Eric Newman had an opportunity to examine the newly discovered Siam specimen of the dollar. He pointed out one detail that had escaped the authors. There are, in fact, very slight indications of the die crack on the reverse, more sharply noticeable on the other Class I dollars.

It need hardly be pointed out that the presence of the die crack does not affect the importance of the new dollar, as fully explained in The Fantastic 1804 Dollar by Newman and Bressett. Subsequent versions of the article, which is substantially the information first made public at the A.N.A. convention in Detroit last August, will omit the reference to the die crack noted by Newman.

NEW OR RECENT ISSUES

By

ERNST KRAUS, LM 129

It is the important duty of The Numismatist to record and illustrate new coins. To accomplish this, members in the United States and abroad are invited to submit new issues to Ernst Kraus, Apt. A, 1501 E. Mt. Airy Ave., Philadelphia 50, Pa. Coins will be photographed and returned as soon as possible, and a credit line will be given to anyone assisting.

AFGHANISTAN

Reverse: Toughra for Amanullah, solar date 1305 below, wreath around, value on top. Reeded edge. This is Yeoman No. 32, not illustrated.

5 Puls, 1313. Bronze. Similar to above, smaller planchet. We do not know if this date is for the solar or lunar year and whether it can be assigned either to 1895 A.D. under Abdurrahman (1880-1901) or to Zahir Shah (1935 A.D.) the present ruler. If any one of our readers can help us in this, we would be very grateful.

2½ Afghani, 1927. Silver. Obverse: Arms, year 8 below, wreath around.

½ Afghani, 1929. Silver. Obverse: Arms (throne room), solar date 1307 below, wreath around. Reverse: Toughra for Amanullah, tenth year of his rule below, all within wreath, value on top. Reeded edge. This variety was listed by Wayne Raymond in Coins of the World, 20th Century as No. 22. Yeoman lists under No. 30 only the first variety, with date under the toughra.

20 Puls, 1930. Brass. Obverse: Toughra for Nadir Shah, date 1348 A.H. below, all within circle, wreath around, "Afghanistan" on top. Reverse: Numerals 20 for value wreath around. Reeded edge.

2 Puls, 1930. Bronze. Similar, smaller planchet. Reeded edge.

1/2 Afghani, 1932. Silver. Obverse: Arms, solar date 1310 below, wreath around. "Kabul" (mint) on top. Reverse: Legend written out within circle: "Nadir Shah Mohammed el Ghazi," value in shield on bottom between wreath. "Afghanistan" on top. Plain edge. (According to Vincent F. Torhan, who so kindly submitted all the above specimens, there are also half afghanis of the identical design with solar dates 1311 and 1312. Numismatic Company of America.)

1 Rupee, 1915. Silver. Obverse: Arms within wreath, value on top.

Reverse: Legend for Habibullah ed-Dhin Khan, 1333 A.H. below, all within wreath. Reeded edge. This coin is Yeoman No. 11.

1/2 Rupee, 1919. Silver. Similar to above, Mohammedan date 1337 A.H. Smaller planchet. Reeded edge. Not listed by Yeoman.

1/4 Rupee, 1919. Silver. Similar, dated 1337 A. H. Still smaller planchet. Reeded edge. Not listed by Yeoman.

1/8 Rupee, 1919. Silver. Obverse: Arms, value above. Reverse: Legend for Habibullah ed-Dhin Khan, dated 1337 A. H. Very small planchet. Reeded edge. This coin is listed by Yeoman as No. 10.

1 Rupee, 1919. Silver. Obverse: Arms within wreath, value on top. Reverse: Legend for Amanullah Khan, dated 1337 A. H. all within wreath. Reeded edge. This coin is not listed by Yeoman.

1/2 Rupee, 1919. Silver. Similar to above, dated 1337 A.H. Smaller planchet. Listed by Yeoman as No. 27.

50 Puls, 1950. Bronze. Obverse: Arms in center, solar date 1330 below, all within wreath, "Afghanistan" on the bottom. Reverse: Value 50 puls within inner circle, legend on top in outer circle: "Afghanistan" in lower part: "Trusting in Allah, Mohammed Zahir Shah." Reeded edge. This coin is similar to one of the same value, dated 1332 solar (1953 A.D.) but in nickel-iron.

25 Puls, 1952. Nickel-Iron. Obverse: Arms within wreath, solar date 1331 "Afghanistan" on the bottom. Reverse: Legend on top: "Afghanistan" value in center, legend in the lower part: "Trusting in Allah, Mohammed Zahir Shah." Plain edge. This coin is similar to one dated 1330 solar, but in bronze. (All the above coins submitted by Vincent Torhan, The Numismatic Company of America. Translation by courtesy S. Minwer Subeh.)

BUKHARA

1 Tenga, 1902. Silver. Arabic legend on obverse: "Sherif," Mohammedan date 1319 A.H. "Marbahan" below, all within wreath. Reverse:

Legend for Mahmud and again dated 1319, part of inscription missing, crude striking. Silver planchet, plain edge. (Submitted by Vincent Torhan, translated by S. M. Subeh.)

A.N.A. DENVER CONVENTION

Application blanks for a bourse table at the Denver convention of the American Numismatic Association in 1963 may be obtained from the Bourse Committee, Alex Pope or Walt Laub, 1532 Broadway, Denver 2, Colo. Although more applications have been received than there are tables available, all requests received by January 15, 1963, will be considered.

Book Reviews

Handbuch der Ritter und Verdienstorden by Maximilian Gritzner, 1893, reprinted 1962 by the Akademischen Druck-und Verlagsanstalt, Graz, Austria. Board covers, 618 pages, illus.

This classic text on world decorations to 1893 is now again available and is a must purchase for all medal collectors. The text is in German, but it is extremely well illustrated with line drawings, making the language problem a minor consideration. Gritzner has long been out of print and collectors have been forced to pay huge sums for a copy. It is recommended that the reprint be purchased by interested parties before this edition, too, is out of print. There is no need to comment on the text since for years this has been the "Bible" in its field. For those not acquainted with it, it is enough to say that it fully covers awards of honor and gallantry but not campaign, long service, and lesser medal forms. Orders of knighthood, many obsolete, are described in detail. Those responsible for the reprinting are to be congratulated for making this valuable volume available to all medal collectors after so many years of scarcity. — J. LHOTKA

British Battles and Medals by Major Lawrence L. Gordon, Gale and Polden, Ltd., Wellington Press, Aldershot, England, 1962. Board covers, 451 pages, illus., 5 guineas.

This is the third edition of a standard work and brings the previous edition (1949) up to date. A brief note on the title page states the scope of the text as follows: "A description of every campaign medal and bar awarded since the Armada, with the historical reasons for their award and the names of all the ships, regiments and squadrons of the Royal Air Force whose personnel are entitled to them." This book does just exactly that in an interesting complete manner. Major Gordon adds his personal comments from time to time, both as a British soldier and as a medal collector of long standing, giving the work a personal touch missing in similar efforts. One may not always agree with the Major, but his comments are well taken and never fail to hit the point. As in former editions, all war medals, (campaign medals as they are usually called in the United States) authorized British and Imperial (and more recently Commonwealth) fighting men by the crown since 1588 are covered, units when known are listed, information on the various actions presented, and naturally all medals are fully illustrated, including a ribbon chart in color. Certain other items such as Polar and Good Shooting medals are also covered in the text. This book is a must for anyone interested in this numismatic field. It is difficult to conceive of attempting to collect British War Medals without the aid of a copy of Gordon. It is only hoped that the Major is not serious when he hints in his foreword that this is his last effort, and we trust, in a few years, his admirers may look forward to an even finer fourth edition of this excellent work. — J. LHOTKA

The Fantastic 1804 Dollar, by Eric P. Newman and Kenneth E. Bressett, Whitman Publishing Company, 1962, Racine, Wis., board covers, 144 pp., illus., $3.50.

While more has been said and written about the 1804 dollar than any other coin, this is the first time that it has been made the exclusive subject of a book. Now the entire story has been recorded in a book which includes much relative information not previously published.

Of course, few of us will ever own one of these "fantastic" pieces and therefore we might well feel that the book is not of special interest or value to us. Perhaps it is unfortunate that the title does not give any indication of the vast amount of information contained that bears directly on other U.S. coins. The coining methods used during the Nineteenth Century and some of the practices in which Mint officials engaged or at least condoned, should be understood by all serious collectors of coins of the 1800s.

The story is developed in an orderly manner which makes for easy and absorbing reading. References are given to articles previously published on the subject, and statements and letters having a bearing on it are quoted. It is a revelation to learn that many prominent numismatists have been misled by these pieces and that they made definite statements which the authors have proved, by thorough and painstaking research, to be untrue.

Preceding the history of every known specimen of the 1804 dollar at the end of the book is a four-page summary of conclusions reached by the authors. The final conclusion is that "There are no genuine 1804 dollars and those struck from Mint-made dies which bear that date are antedated fantasies. The 'King of American Coins' is an imposter, but was made for a King."

We repeat — this book should be read by every collector of pre-Twentieth Century coins who wishes to consider himself well informed. — GLENN S.

New Astronaut Medal

A new dollar size, sterling silver medal commemorating John H. Glenn, Jr., and his orbital space flight of February 20, 1962, has been released by Clifford Mishler, P.O. Box 187, Vandalia, Mich. Limited to a thousand, serially numbered pieces, this is the third in the Historical Artistry series, the first two being the 1959 Alaska-Hawaii statehood and the 1961 Fort Sumter-Appomattox medals. Designer of the new medal is Philip Krazzkowski; manufacturer, Robbins Co. of Attleboro, Mass.

"THE WESTERN SAVAGES (AMERICAN INDIANS) know nothing of the value of money. The wampum bead, it is true, among a few tribes, somewhat resembles a currency; for, being generally esteemed, it acquires a value in proportion to size, and sometimes passes from hand to hand, in exchange for necessities. The legitimate wampum is only of shells, and was of aboriginal manufacture; being small long tubes with an ovate surface, or sometimes simply cylindrical; and handsomely polished; but imitations of glass or porcelain seem now the most common. The color is generally white, though sometimes blue or striped." — Commerce of the Prairies or the Journal of a Santa Fe Trader by Josiah Gregg, NYC, 1845, II, 298.

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year

CSA ISSUES OF 1861 IN PANORAMA

By

PHILIP H. CHASE, A.N.A. No. 4286

Copyright 1962 by Philip H. Chase

Concluded from September, 1962

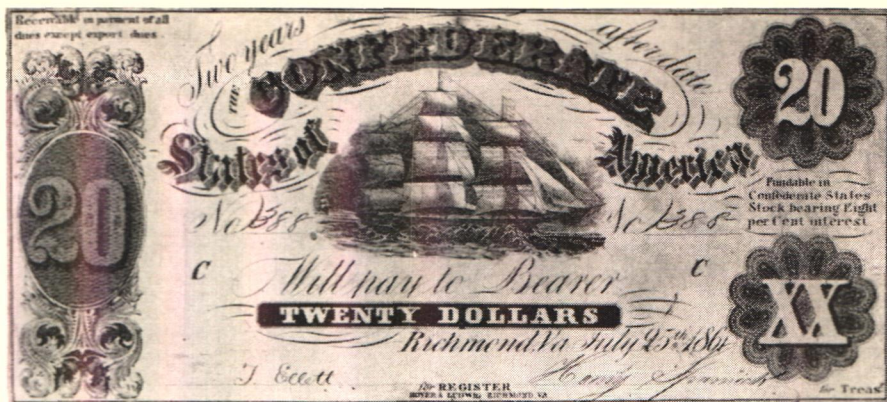

The first consignment of the Southern Bank Note Company's $5 and $10 engraved notes (Nos. 114 and 121) printed in red and black began to make their appearance about the middle of November, almost six months after the award of the contract by the Treasury Department. This was the name given to the New Orleans branch of the American Bank Note Company by its local managing partner at the outbreak of hostilities.

The chart shows the issue only two days later of the engraved $5 and $10 (Nos. 115 and 122) notes in orange and black, the first produced by Leggett, Keatinge & Ball. The $10 denomination was the first Treasury note with the portrait of a living person. The identity of the man was the subject of speculation for many years until H. D. Allen, in 1917, proved that vignettes and medallions on the Treasury note were identical with those on a $10 Savannah, Ga., bank note, on which appeared the likeness of John E. Ward, its Mayor. It is quite plausible that the Confederate authorities, discovering this fact, cut short the production of notes with the likeness of a person of lower position than that of officials of the CSA Government.

The $5 and $10 notes (Nos. 118 and 126) which next follow on the chart are among the rarest. They are highly esteemed by collectors, although the designs are not outstanding. The notes were lithographed on soft paper and are seldom found in excellent condition. The $5 note is often referred to as the "Indian Princess" note. Hoyer & Ludwig produced four notes of each denomination from a single eight-subject stone. Why they were discontinued in December after only nine days with but 7,160 of each issued is unknown. Perhaps damage to the lithographic stone stopped production of the note sheets.

The handsome $20 and $50 red and black engraved notes (Nos. 132 and 136) imprinted SOUTHERN BANK NOTE CO. tardily appeared early in January, 1862. These notes, strong favorites with collectors, totaled little more than twice the number of the preceding $5 and $10 notes, but they are not nearly so scarce. Probably the higher denominations resulted in their less rapid circulation and the higher quality paper assured greater durability. It seems probable that the delays in delivering the sheets of these two notes, the $5 and $10 notes (Nos. 114 and 121) and the $50 and $100 Richmond interest-bearing notes (Nos. 105 and 106) resulted, in part at least, from a deliberate slowdown fostered by the manager of this Northern-owned New Orleans establishment who continued in charge after the outbreak of hostilities. The correspondence of the Secretary of the Treasury, C. G. Memminger, indicates considerable suspicion following successive postponements of delivery. This culminated in the seizure of the property as that of an alien enemy, and in November, 1861 the plates were ordered sent to Richmond. This order was not carried out. When New Orleans fell to Federal forces in 1862, the "black" plates for printing all six notes and some of the "tint" plates were captured. They are now in the Smithsonian Institution, United States National Museum, Washington, D. C.

TYPE 110. Large square-rigged sailing ship. $20.

Expansion of Notes Issued in 1862

It is evident from the chart, Fig. 1, that during the year 1862, over fifty per cent more new "September 2, 1861" note types appeared; over four times as many notes were put into circulation as in 1861. The fiscal background for this great expansion was an increase in December, 1861 of the original $100 million authorization to $150 million, another increase to $200 million in April 1862, and an "open-end" authorization by Act of September 23, 1862. Consequently the total amount issued was almost $292 million. In contrast, the total amount issued under the earlier 1861 Acts was $19.3 million, only one-fifteenth as much. The physical background was the expansion of facilities and personnel, with new firms producing notes.

Early in 1862 several of the establishments producing Treasury notes moved to Columbia, S. C. Hoyer & Ludwig's earlier leading role was taken over by J. T. Paterson. Soon the name of B. Duncan appears, and Leggett, Keatinge & Ball became Keatinge & Ball. These developments account for the appearance of new engravers' names and COLUMBIA, S. C. instead of RICHMOND, VA. in the imprints on several types of notes. Notes with the several imprints are varieties attractive to many collectors.

Starting late in January, 1862 the $10 (No. 127) notes of Hoyer & Ludwig and later of J. T. Paterson were issued in great quantities almost to the end of the year. A study indicates that perhaps 35 lithographic eight-subject layouts were used to produce this note, about one-quarter of which it is estimated were by Hoyer & Ludwig. This design superseded the very similar design of Type No. 126 that appeared so briefly about a month earlier. It is quite likely the Treasury Department decided to restrict the $10 notes lithographed by Hoyer & Ludwig and J. T. Paterson to a single design and selected that of No. 127. New designs, soon to appear on notes produced by other engraving establishments, could have furnished added justification for such a decision.

From late February, 1862 until nearly the end of the year the $10 (No. 123) finely engraved note, printed in orange and black, was being issued. The imprint on the notes was originally LEGGETT, KEATINGE & BALL but soon a variety appeared without the name LEGGETT because Leggett dropped out of the firm. This was the first Confederate Treasury note to bear the likeness of an official of the Government, R. M. T. Hunter, Secretary of State. (Could this note have any connection with his leaving this high office the month following its first appearance?)

The type No. 123 notes are the first of many to appear on water-marked papers. The several designs — CSA in block and script letters; J. WHATMAN 1862; HODGKINSON AND CO. WOOKEY HOLE MILL; N. Y.; FIVE and TEN indicate the widely spread sources of supply, some as far away as Great Britain.

About the middle of March, 1862, the portrait of C. G. Memminger, Secretary of the Treasury, first appeared as the central vignette on an engraved $5 note (No. 117) printed in green and black. Varieties show the Keatinge & Ball imprint, both with and without LEGGETT included, as on the No. 123 notes.

On March 17, 1862, Col. Blanton Duncan's first product is recorded in the register, the excellently lithographed $10 note (No. 128). Duncan's explosive, aggressive personality stands out in his letters to the Secretary of the Treasury, but his massive production of notes of several types attests to his ability.

The last of March saw the issuance of the $5 "Ceres on cotton bale" note (No. 119), which continued until January 1863. It reached the highest total issued of any 1861 note. Most of the notes were lithographed by J. T. Paterson, but a fraction bear the imprint of Hoyer & Ludwig.

A new $5 note (No. 120) produced by Duncan made its appearance early in April, 1862, the design incorporating a portrait of C. G. Memminger. Perhaps the use of this portrait was one of Duncan's ways of gaining favor in the production of Treasury notes.

The President of the Confederacy, Jefferson Davis, made his first appearance on the attractive $50 note (No. 137) printed in green and black, produced by Keatinge & Ball. Why his likeness did not appear on the first instead of the third note to carry the portrait of a high officer of the Confederacy is a mystery that further investigation may solve.

Both Memminger's and Hunter's portraits are included in the design of a new $10 note (No. 124) engraved and printed by Keatinge & Ball that is first entered in the register on May 12, 1862.

On the same date is entered another note, produced by Keatinge & Ball, the $5 note (No. 116) of design similar to that of No. 117 (Memminger's portrait), but printed in black alone.

The middle of June 1862 marks the entry of two more notes, lithographed by Blanton Duncan, that rank second and third, in total number issued, of all the notes with 1861 dates. On the $10 note (No. 129) Duncan belatedly pays his first respects to the former Secretary of State by incorporating R. M. T. Hunter's portrait in a vignette. The central vignette depicts General Marion's historic sweet potato dinner during the Revolution, where, according to legend, every dish was prepared from that vegetable, to the astonishment of a British envoy. A few days later on June 21, 1862, the register records Duncan's new $20 note (No. 133), a hodge-podge design in which an unflattering likeness of Alexander H. Stephens, Vice President of the Confederacy, is associated with Cupid, Industry and Hope. The competition in portraying government officers continued strong, for the portrait of Stephens appears again, late in June, on another $20 Keatinge & Ball engraved note (No. 134) printed in green and black.

Issued early in July, 1862, the $2 note (No. 113) is an interesting

"maverick." The central vignette shows a militantly patriotic design, "Confederacy striking down the Union." On it also appears the first likeness on a Treasury note of Judah P. Benjamin, Secretary of War. Notes of this design with the date September 2, 1861, are rare — actually they are $2 notes of the June 2, 1862 issue, with the wrong year shown. As no notes of the $2 denomination were authorized before the Act of April 18, 1862, the 1861 date on such a note is obviously incorrect and might label it as illegally issued. With discovery of the engraver's mistake soon after initial issue early in July, 1862, immediate corrective steps were taken. Unissued notes and those issued which could be recovered were destroyed and the date was changed on apparently the only lithographic stone bearing the wrong date, of the several lithographic stones used in producing the note. The entries in the Register make no distinction between the notes with the different dates, therefore information on the number of "maverick" ones is meager.

Unusually well executed counterfeits of the $10 note (No. 124) that appeared not long after the genuine notes were issued in May, 1862 are believed to have spurred the appearance of a modification in the middle of July. In the new note (No. 125), also by Keatinge & Ball, two large ornamental Xs were printed in red or orange, one on each side of the central vignette No. 124, as an added feature to discourage counterfeiting. These two notes have a large array of varieties, on several plain and watermarked papers. The engraving varieties had an enigmatic pattern which was traced back to specific differences in two of the six plates used in printing the notes. Also, several "varieties" of these notes were proved to be nonexistent.

In concluding this "panorama" of the "1861" Confederate Treasury notes, it must be pointed out that, commencing in May, 1862, various new types of notes bearing "1862" dates were issued which added considerably to the currency in circulation. The first of these were the $100 interest notes of 1862, paying 7.3% per annum, double the rate of the original interest notes of 1861. In July, 1861 and 1862 $1 and $2 Treasury notes appeared for the first time. In August $10 notes erroneously dated September 2, 1862, were issued. The year should have been "1861" for the notes are entered in the Register as authorized by the Act of August 19, 1861, under which all the "September 2, 1861" notes were issued.

From the General Secretary's Desk:

From the response in new applications for membership in the A.N.A. we know that most of the members have noticed our announcements of the increase from $2.00 to $5.00 for the admission fee for a new member, and have called it to the attention of their friends. But just in case some of you have missed it, we would like to repeat the deadline date again. Applications received after December 31st will have to be accompanied by a check for $10.00, not $7.00.

The annual dues remain the same $5.00. The dues statements were all mailed in November, and these are also due on December 31st.

Our sincere appreciation to the members who have been notifying us in advance when they are planning to move. It makes The Numismatist mailing so much more efficient. Address changes that we receive in January cannot become effective until the March issue, because the February issue is actually mailed in January. — DON SHERER

Smithsonian Receives Gift from Stack's

Joseph B., Morton, Norman, Benjamin, and Harvey Stack of New York City recently gave four hundred political objects to the Smithsonian Institution. Among the more interesting items is a rare brass button with initials GW in center surrounded by the initials of the thirteen states. Another rarity is a large cotton banner bearing the likenesses of Abraham Lincoln and Hannibal Hamlin used by the Republicans in the 1860 campaign.

Polio Victim Is Active Collector

Since he was stricken by polio six years ago, Charles L. Kmem, 3315 S. Fifty-sixth Ct., Cicero 50, Ill., has lived in an iron lung. With the cheerful assistance of his wife and seven-year-old daughter, he has taken up the hobby of coin collecting and would like to hear from other collectors.

Cornering the Market

Dear Mr. Bradfield:

Collectors or so-called "numismatists" nowadays hoard and speculate or attempt to corner the market on coins, rolls, and/or proof sets. Some collectors of the past attempted what our profit-minded collectors of today do. And I quote from the 1906, November issue of The Numismatist:

"The late Mr. R. B. Leeds of Philadelphia, if we may judge from the catalogue of his coins just issued for auction sale by Henry Chapman, Jr., must have made an effort to corner certain coins of the U.S. In this catalogue there are no less than 109 of the flying eagle cents of 1856. There are also over 2,000 half cents offered of the different dates. Twelve half dollars of 1815 and four of the 1873 three dollar gold pieces of which only 25 pieces were struck."

However, I would like to point out that although there are many times more collectors today than there were years ago, the coins hoarded in those "good ole days" are legitimately rare compared to the coins speculated upon nowadays in which millions and hundreds of millions of these Twentieth Century pieces are minted.

A public offering of stock in the corporation has been released, the securities being registered with the Texas State Security Board.

VNA Holds Fourth Convention

Collectors from all parts of the state met at the Danville Hotel September 22-23 for the fourth annual convention of the Virginia Numismatic Association. The Danville Coin Club was host. Chairman Raymond Oskey, Co-chairman James Fuquay, Bill Turner, L. C. Ivey, Bill Payne, Bill Norman, Sam Hines and Cecil Perkins are to be congratulated for staging a highly successful convention.

There were twenty-three bourse tables and many fine exhibits, with the following award winners: Best in Show — Mrs. Joann Klotz for her display entitled "Numismatic Eagle"; U.S. coins — David Paul III for his unusual display of commemorative coins; foreign coins — L. C. Ivey for his exhibit of coins from forty different countries; U.S. currency — Doug Colbert; Confederate — Doug Colbert; miscellaneous — Mrs. Joann Klotz for her "Numismatic Poker." A special award went to Rives Brown for his display of medals with a Biblical theme.

At the Saturday evening banquet, outgoing President Bernard Littlepage presented a plaque to Raymond Oskey for outstanding service to VNA. Officers elected for the following year are: President Allen A. McGinnis, First Vice President Raymond Oskey, Second Vice President Charles Affleck, Secretary-Treasurer Joann Klotz, and Sergeant-at-Arms Louis Gregory. The 1963 convention is scheduled for Richmond in early September. — JOANN KLOTZ

Young Numismatists of America Is Newly Organized Group

The Young Numismatists of America was founded September 17, 1961, with the stated purpose of helping "the young collector gain more knowledge of his hobby as well as better his collection." Limited to young people under age twenty-one, all members must be sponsored by their parents or guardians. The organization is not sponsored at this time by a senior numismatic group. For more information, write Howard Eisenberg, Secretary (and founder), 30 S. Parkside Ave., Chicago 44, Ill. Membership is $1.00 a year.

Tampa Coin Show Sponsored by FUN

Following its January 3-7 show and convention on the Florida east coast, Florida United Numismatists will hold a coin show January 10-13 in the Hillsboro Hotel in Tampa, on the central west coast of the state. The bourse will be limited to fifty of the most outstanding dealers in this country and Canada. A number of the prize winning displays from the Miami Beach show will be at Tampa and will compete with others for trophies and other awards. The completely remodeled Hillsboro Hotel will give special rates to visitors to this show, who should make reservations direct with the hotel and mention the show. This will be the third Mid-Winter coin show to be held in Tampa and is expected to be the largest numismatic event of the year on the Florida west coast.

"Take Ten"

Dear Mr. Bradfield:

Glenn Smedley visited our Phoenix office in September, to go over some of the operations and problems of this office with General Secretary Don Sherer. We have just received one of his comments — a new coffeemaker!

With the staff and the visitors that we have, there is a steady demand for coffee, and trying to keep up with it using our old inexpensive, small pot was definitely an operations problem. The new one is a very fine coffeemaker unusually suitable for office use.

We wish to acknowledge the gift and express our appreciation for the donor's thoughtfulness.

and the set of copper pattern coins recently found in the State of Iowa Archives.

Al Eidt was presented with a 1960 small date proof set at the Sunday morning business meeting in appreciation for his work as Secretary-Treasurer during the last three years. Officers elected for the coming year are: President Don Jensen, Vice Presidents Philip Budd and Kenny Benedict, Secretary-Treasurer Dean Oakes, and Directors John T. Alvery, Al Eidt, William Ott, Golby Uhler and W. E. Van Hook. The 25th annual convention will be held at Sioux City in 1963, with the Siouxland Coin Collector Club as host.

Penn-Ohio Convention Report

Under the supervision of Chairman James N. Crawford, the Fall convention of Penn-Ohio Coin Clubs was held October 5-7 with the Youngstown Numismatic Club as host. It rated very high in fine exhibits, bourse, entertainment and fellowship and, like the Spring convention, drew an attendance of about 3,000. Nearly a hundred bourse dealers were kept busy and the three-session auction conducted by Harold Berk of Warren was well attended and recorded some sales at higher than catalog prices.

Ruth Hammell and her crew of fine workers kept the ladies busy with such features as a circus, hat parade, and talks on making flowers, rugs and hats. Sara Jane Hewlett of Woodmere Long Island Library talked on "Dolls of the World," Angela Maria Lipo of Supino, Italy, told about her adventures across the Holy Land by camel caravan, and Mary H. Weisend interested the women with helpful hints on "Framing the Youthful You." Both men and women enjoyed an address on "The Nature of Hypnosis" by Prof. Walter E. Mayer, Ph.D., Chairman of the Psychology Department of Youngstown University.

D. W. McLelland provided decorations for the Saturday evening banquet that were symbolic of Thanksgiving, and those who attended heard short addresses by A.N.A. President C. C. Shroyer; Tom Williams, President of Penn-Ohio Coin Clubs; and Carroll Kepler, President of Youngstown Numismatic Society. Sol Kaplan gave a short talk regarding the Lewis M. Reagan Memorial Foundation.

Exhibit award winners were: paper money — Ed Neuce, first, and William Lavell, second; foreign coins — George Hattie and Don Carson; U. S. coins — William Carson and Don Devore; tokens and medals — Alfred G. Schaffer and Jack Jones; miscellaneous — Ernest Cooke and Steven Razum. Best in show, an honor award for a Past President of the organization, went to James Kirkwood for an outstanding exhibit of foreign paper money. This year's award honored Samuel Kabealo, who was the second President of Penn-Ohio and the originator and first President of Youngstown Numismatic Club. Noncompetitive exhibits were by Art Lovi, Irving Moskovitz and Kenneth Ferguson. These three served as judges of the competitive exhibits. A trophy was awarded to J. V. McDermott in appreciation of his generosity in allowing his rare 1913 Liberty Head nickel to be exhibited here and at many other shows. Among the other excellent exhibits were three by Junior Members.

The officers extend thanks to all exhibitors, dealers, numismatic publications, the Alpha Iota Sorority of Youngstown University which handled the registration, and to all committee workers. The 1963 Spring convention is scheduled for June 14-16 at the Biltmore Hotel in Dayton. James Bird, 48 East 4th St., Dayton, Ohio, is General Chairman, and James Kelly will handle the auction. — L. M. CADDY, Secretary.

Silver "Nickels" and The Price of Silver

Dear Sir:

For some time, I have been expecting to see in The Numismatist a discussion of the ever-increasing bullion value of the wartime (silver-alloy) Jefferson 5¢ pieces. In order to conserve nickel, an alloy consisting of thirty-five percent silver was used. At the then price of silver, the bullion value was still well below five cents per coin. For about a year, now, the price of silver has been going up until it is presently about $1.20 per Troy ounce.

Even in their present worn state, the average silver content of these coins as found in circulation is 0.055 oz. T., which works out to better than six and one-half cents for each. Traditionally, when the bullion value of a coin gets much above its face value, the coin disappears from circulation. I still find ten to fifteen percent wartime "nickels" in circulation, but I wonder how long it will be before somebody begins to "mine" this source of thirty-five percent silver ore, which can be bought for thirty percent under its value.

Evansville Strikes Sesquicentennial Medal

The Evansville (Ind.) Sesquicentennial commemorative medal is being held to a total of 1000 copies, it was announced recently by F. V. Johnson, Jr., executive director of the celebration.

William Pukall, president of the Evansville Coin Club, has high praise for the medal, saying, "This medallion is very sharp in detail. The portraits of Hugh McGary and Robert Evans, Evansville founders, on the front side are excellent and the flat boat scene on the reverse is truly remarkable in its high relief outline. The designer, Don Dailey, and the manufacturer, Medallic Arts Company, have cooperated in producing an outstanding medal."

The medal is one eighth inch thick basically, but the relief production on both sides increases the over-all thickness another sixteenth inch. The Evansville Sesquicentennial Commission, 211 Main Street, Evansville, Ind., is accepting mail orders. The medallions are $7.50 each.

RICHARD HAAKON ROSHOLM, A.N.A. NO. 3493

American numismatic circles were saddened to learn of the death September 25 of Richard Haakon Rosholm, 63, 1211 W. Clinton Ave., Round Lake, Ill. He had been an active member of the American Numismatic Association since 1929. His collecting specialty was odd and curious money, which brought him award after award in national and regional competition. He held membership in American Numismatic Society, Central States Numismatic Society, Chicago Coin Club and many other numismatic groups. He belonged to the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite, Valley of Chicago and Rising Sun Lodge 115, AF and AM.

Born November 13, 1898, in Norway, he had lived in Chicago for many years before moving to Round Lake twenty-four years ago. A painter and decorator, he retired last year. Surviving are his widow Marie; his mother and a brother in Norway. — EGB

A. G. K. JAKOBSEN, A.N.A. NO. 6817

In the passing of A. G. K. Jakobsen of Daly City on September 11, 1962, death claimed another long time San Francisco area collector. He was active in the Pacific Coast Numismatic Society in the 1930s, a member of American Numismatic Association since 1938, and a member of San Francisco Coin Club, California State Numismatic Association and Northern California Numismatic Association. Being a World War I veteran, he was active in American Legion affairs and a Past Commander of a Daly City post. — RH

HARRY R. MILLER, A.N.A. NO. 7049

Harry R. Miller, a lifetime resident of the Chicago area, died on October 7 at the Garfield Park Hospital at the age of 60. He had been associated with the North American Life Insurance Co. for more than forty years and was manager of its Northern Illinois agency until a heart condition caused him to retire in 1957. He had handled insurance for a number of mid-Western dealers and numismatic organizations, the last being coverage for the 1962 A.N.A.-C.N.A. convention in Detroit.

Harry had been active in Boy Scouting for many years and it was through this work that he developed a keen interest in coin and stamp collecting. He joined the A.N.A. in 1938 and the Chicago Coin Club ten years later. He had been restricted in his activities following a heart operation five years ago but never lost his interest in numismatics and philately.

Surviving are his widow, Frances, in Oak Park and a son, Lowell, and five grandchildren in Arizona. Following mass at St. Catherine of Siena Church, interment was in St. Mary's Cemetery. — GBS

BERT ALLUMBAUGH, A.N.A. NO. 19912

Bert Allumbaugh passed away on September 5, 1962, at the age of 68 in the Veterans Hospital in Portland, Oregon, after several years' illness. Interment was at Astoria, Ill.

Born May 23, 1894, in Browning, Ill., Bert was a dispatcher for the Portland and Seattle Railroad before retirement in July, 1960.

He leaves his widow (the former Alma Clark), a brother Norman of Long Beach, Calif., a sister Mrs. Beulah Haberman of Beardstown, Ill.

He was a veteran of World War I and belonged to the American Legion, the Scottish Rite Masonic Lodge, the El Kadir Shrine, and the Elks Lodge in Portland. He was a past President of the Oregon Numismatic Society, and was Housing Chairman for the A.N.A. convention in Portland in 1959, and on the Resolution Committee of the A.N.A. convention in Boston, 1960.

Bert was a good and friendly man, generous and helpful to all and will be greatly missed by both A.N.A. friends as well as a host of other friends in Portland. — WNW

MORMON GOLD COINAGE

Brigham Young was the instigator of the Mormon gold coinage. He personally supervised the mint, which was housed in a small building in Salt Lake City. The mint was inaugurated in 1849 as a public convenience.

In gold mining sections there was considerable trouble in paying small sums using gold dust. A mechanic, and a jeweler and dentist, John Kay and James Barlow, respectively, were credited with making the dies used in stamping Mormon gold coins. They were struck in $2½, $5, $10, and $20 denominations.

All work was done by hand. If the prospector so desired, he could follow the gold dust from his own pouch with his own eyes through the manufacturing process. Strange as it may seem, no charge was made for this service. Coinage was absolutely free.

The obverse of the Mormon gold coins show the Eye of Providence and the bishop's miter. The legend around the border reads, TO THE LORD HOLINESS. The reverse shows clasped hands in the center, the year of mintage beneath, and around the border the initials G. S. L. C. P. G. These initials stand for "Great Salt Lake City Pure Gold."

It was just that, pure gold from the prospector's pouch. — HARRY BOSLEY, A.N.A. No. 26180.

Portraits Found on Obsolete Paper Money

GALLERY OF CIVIL WAR GENERALS

By

Concluded from November, 1962

ADDENDA

In the uncharted course of original research, things do not always go as desired. This fact was true in several instances in regard to this work. For one reason or another, certain portraits did not lend themselves to proper identification, in spite of intensive research. The main reason for this is the poor quality of lithographic workmanship, some being little better than pencil sketches. Also, unfortunately, the authorizing or enabling acts of state-issued currency during the Civil War seldom named the men whose portraits were to be used on this money.

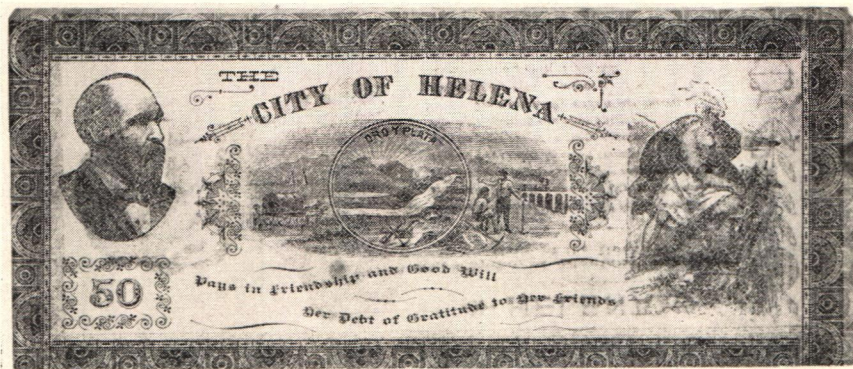

Perhaps they little realized the fleeting nature of their deeds, or the gone-with-the-wind quality of their medium of exchange. Or perhaps they found it easier to leave these details to the engraver or lithographer. At any rate, it is safe to say that arrangements on this subject between state officials and printer were completely unofficial in most cases; probably no more than oral agreements, if any at all, were made. Such expedients, however effective at the moment, do not leave very good records for posterity.

Despite such obstacles, a certain amount of knowledge was gained in connection with working with noted Civil War authorities. If this limited amount of knowledge were excluded, all research accomplished on the subject would be lost and performed in vain. So, in spite of being admittedly inconclusive or incomplete, it was thought best to include them herewith, in this role of addenda, with the exact notation of their status appearing in each case.

Tentative Identification

This unusual "note" of the post war period (circa 1875-1880) is of somewhat doubtful origin and intent, at least for the purpose of this work. It is believed that the issue was made by citizens and merchants of Helena, Montana, and given to those friends in nearby towns who had befriended them with aid after a devastating fire had leveled every store in downtown Helena several years earlier. The stock vignettes and portrait of a lithographing company are very poor quality, but the portrait apparently is of James Garfield. The poor workmanship could forever prevent a definite identification; however, the close resemblance to Garfield is unmistakable. Usually only top political or military figures were used in these stock engravings, so Garfield would have been a natural and even ideal subject portrait in the late 1870s or early 1880s.

GENERAL FRANZ SIGEL OR GENERAL GRENVILLE M. DODGE, U.S.A.

Tentative Identification

Civil War experts were divided in their opinion on this identification, some favoring General Sigel and some favoring General Dodge. The poor quality of lithographic work may well keep this identity uncertain forever, unless printed proof is discovered some day. Several factors favor the Sigel identification.

General Franz Sigel or General Grenville M. Dodge, U.S.A., on $5 Defense Warrant of the State of Missouri, June 25, 1864.

Gen. Sigel

In contrast to Gen. Dodge, Gen. Sigel was closely associated with military duty in Missouri from the start of the war. Considerable significance may be attached to this, inasmuch as this issue was made by a local St. Louis firm and it seems entirely logical that they would use only well known Missouri military men as subjects of portraits on their issues of wartime currency. Dodge was commissioned in Iowa as Colonel of the 4th Iowa Regiment. In 1862 he was in command of the 1st Brigade of the Army of Southwest Missouri. Wounded at Pea Ridge in March, 1862, he was transferred to the Army of the Tennessee after recuperating, and did not return to Missouri. For whatever significance it has, a deep furrow in the skin can be seen extending from the eyebrow into the forehead on originals of both the portrait on the warrant and the portrait of General Sigel in the Library of Congress.

GENERAL LEW WALLACE OR GENERAL THOMAS C. FLETCHER, U.S.A.

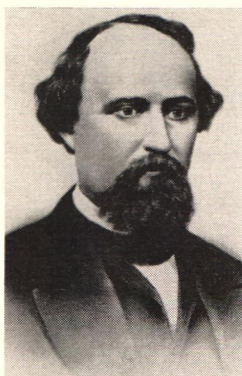

Tentative Identification

Research to identify the portrait on the $1 Union Military Bond of Missouri narrowed down to two strong possibilities. (1) General Wallace's photograph in the Library of Congress bears some remarkable resemblances to the portrait on the bond. Yet Wallace was never closer to Missouri than the Cairo,

Gen. Fletcher

Ill., Military District in his wartime activities. This should not rule out the identification completely, however, as the issue was made by the American Bank Note Company and his portrait could have been the most appropriate westerly General in their files at the time. General Wallace had been a prominent figure in the Battle of Shiloh and the capture of Fort Donelson in 1862, about a year preceding the first issuance of these bonds in August, 1863. (2) Thomas C. Fletcher was Colonel of a Missouri Regiment when this issue was made and would have been a most appropriate subject for a portrait on Missouri's wartime currency. He was also a lawyer and politician. In 1864 he became a General, leaving the military service later that same year after being wounded in action. He was elected Governor of Missouri in 1865. However, the points of resemblance between the portrait on the bond and Fletcher's photograph in the State Historical Society of Missouri are not sufficient to be conclusive.

The whole-hearted cooperation of noted Civil War historians, various historical and numismatic societies, as well as many leading numismatists, was the finest possible and is a leading factor in giving this effort the degree of completeness it has. In addition to those who are named in connection with use of their notes for illustrations, the following noted historians, numismatists and societies were consulted to varying degrees and all were of great assistance:

Floyd C. Shoemaker, Secretary of the Missouri Historical Society until his retirement in 1960.

Donald Walsh, present Secretary of the Missouri Historical Society, Columbia, Mo.

Ralph G. Newman, founder of the first Civil War Round Table, and nationally known author of books on Lincoln and the Civil War, Chicago, Ill.

Ezra J. Warner, author of Generals in Gray, and a leading authority on Civil War generals.

Mrs. LeRoy Burris, Librarian of the Historical Society of Montgomery County, Norristown, Pa.

Mrs. Alene Lowe White, Curator of the Western Reserve Historical Society, Cleveland, Ohio.

Vernon L. Brown, Curator of the Chase Manhattan Bank Museum of Money of the World, New York City.

Mrs. Ralph Catterall, of the Valentine Museum, Richmond, Va.

The Calgary Coin Association of Alberta, Canada, is seeking certain copies of The Numismatist to complete its library set. Charter member Professor A. R. Prince donated the complete volumes of 1907 to 1922 and 1937 to date which have been bound and are being used by the members. The Association would like to fill the gap with the years 1923 to 1936, inclusive, and also obtain any years prior to 1907. It is willing to pay a reasonable price for any of these volumes. The Association may be contacted at P. O. Box 633, Calgary, Alberta, Canada. — L. B. HALL, Librarian

On September 1 the eighty bourse spaces for the eighth annual convention of the Numismatic Association of Southern California were offered. By the end of the month all were sold — sorry, we just haven't room for any more. The convention will be held January 30-February 2 in the Hotel Statler Hilton in Los Angeles. We don't hesitate to assure those who attend an outstanding convention. — RICHARD P. GOODSON, Bourse Chm.

At a recent Board meeting of Echo Park Coin Club, Los Angeles, Roger Parient was elected President to succeed George D'Amato. Only five months old, our Club now has thirty-seven paid up members and is thought to be unique in that no dealers are permitted. At our September 20 meeting, President Parient detailed plans expected to benefit members by presenting more and better door prizes, holding yearly banquets and selling proof sets to members at cost. The Club has applied for membership in A.N.A. and plans to use its facilities for giving members a better understanding of numismatics. — JACK C. MACKAY, Corr. Sec.

The North Central Kansas Coin Club showed the A.N.A. slide set of "Odds and Ends of Coinage, Spurious and Real," to nineteen members at the October 3 meeting. We certainly recommend this set of slides, especially to clubs having a lot of new members. E. Phil Smith displayed merchant tokens of Kansas, and Charlie Jewell displayed centennial medals. — JOHN J. SMIES, Sec.-Treas.

To the Toronto Coin Club in its September meeting, Murray Sweigman of International Coin Company, Toronto, offered a confident prediction: whatever may prove to be the condition of general business, the demand by collectors for Canadian official issues will continue to develop. He would not deny that prices might come to rest on a plateau from time to time — a trend lately in evidence with rolls — but that will mean only that collectors rather than speculators will be making the market. He exhibited a B. Max Mehl catalog of 1925 with its long list of Canadian tokens but without a reference to Canadian decimals. His tribute to Wayte Raymond, who laid the foundation for the price structure of Canadian coins and bills, received prompt endorsement from the floor, though Dr. J. S. Wilkinson pointed out that Toronto's Jim Charlton had been associated with Wayte Raymond from the beginning. Murray reminded us that among eight directors of the newly formed International Banknote Society, three are Canadians: Cale Jarvis, J. Douglas Ferguson, and Harold Don Allen, President of the Society. Mrs. Winifred Mather added a footnote to her address on marriage medals at our June meeting: on that occasion Hans Zellermeier, visiting Canada from Germany, mentioned that his native city, Hamburg, had for times beyond memory granted medals to resident couples who had achieved fifty years of wedded life but that the municipal corporation no longer did so. However, he has since written a correction — it seems that Hamburg still maintains its old tradition by awarding bronze medals for golden and silver for diamond wedding anniversaries. — H. A. CRAIG, Editor

The Phoenix Coin Club was pleased to have Glenn Smedley of Chicago as a guest at its September 17 meeting. Glenn was making an official visit to A.N.A. General Secretary Don Sherer's office and was prevailed upon to make a short talk at the meeting. He was voted into honorary membership in the Club, thus joining the ranks of such outstanding numismatists as the late Lewis M. Reagan and M. Vernon Sheldon. — KARL STEINMAN, Sec.

The Muscle Shoals (Ala.) Coin Club recently elected the following officers for the coming year: President Charles C. Anderson, Vice Presidents Charlie King and Dr. S. S. Norvell, Recording Secretary O. V. Ledgewood, Corresponding Secretary Ludy Mae Smith, Treasurer Jane Riddle, and Director Dr. M. C. Dunn. — MRS. CHARLES M. SMITH, Corr. Sec.

The ninety-five persons attending the September meeting of Torrance (Calif.) Coin Club enjoyed a talk by Joe Mirkovich, originator of the Mission medals. Mirkovich said that upon one of his many visits to the old California missions the idea came to him for a series of medals to perpetuate this truly California heritage. Following the first medal which depicts Father Junipero Serra, founder of the chain of missions, there will be one medal for each of the twenty-one missions. Each issue will be limited to 1000 in silver and 2500 in bronze, and he expects to take three years to complete the series. The original drawings for the first medal and the defaced dies used in striking it were exhibited at this meeting. A plaque of appreciation was presented to Mirkovich for his interesting talk. A four-man panel, consisting of Robert Axelrod, Jim Miladin, C. W. Tritt and Harry Weber, held a short question and answer session. — MRS. VIRGINIA H. DENNIS, Sec.

HERSHEY CLUB SPEAKER

Guymon, Oklahoma, never had a coin show before but it won't soon forget the one held by the four-year-old Guymon Coin Club September 15-16. It seemed like everyone of the town's seven thousand people crowded into the Venetian Room of Hotel Dale to see coins and make the twenty bourse dealers happy. Oldsters saw coins that went out of use in their youth, and youngsters verified the existence of gold coins they'd never seen. Lloyd Shaffer of Wichita conducted the Saturday evening auction. A.N.A. First Vice President was the honored guest, and brought with him Mary Allen whose outstanding collection of trade tokens is on display in the Oklahoma Historical Society Museum. Lee Prine, coordinator of the show, tells of going to the coffee shop for breakfast and finding the hotel manager looking over the change. When asked, "What are you looking for?" the manager replied, "I don't know, but everyone else is doing it." We feel sure that many who came out of curiosity will be collectors soon, and another show is being planned for them next Fall. —FRANCILLE LINDLEY, Sec.

The Lawndale (Calif.) Coin Club featured a 148-lot auction at its 40th meeting on September 16 which, we feel, sets some sort of a record for a regular meeting auction. Staged by Ed Barrett and Bob Davis, the auction grossed $3,166.05, including $195 for an unc. 1909-S VDB cent, $70 for an unc. 1931-S cent, $37 for an about good 1916-D dime, $64.50 for a 1942/41 dime in vg. and $30 for a roll of unc. 1955-S cents. Karl Brainard spoke on the difference between prices in the "Red Book" and those in Coin World "Trends." Attendance at this meeting was 129, with 17 new members being admitted to the Club for a two month's total of 30. Our meetings are held the third Sunday afternoon monthly in the Del Aire Improvement Association Building in Inglewood. —JACK PROTAY, Corr. Sec.

Over a hundred persons attended the thirtieth anniversary dinner-dance of Brooklyn Coin Club in the ballroom of Hotel Granadas. Guest speaker Hans Schulman gave a most interesting account of his recent trip through Europe. Dancing and community style singing rounded out an enjoyable evening for all. President Boris Wishy announced the appointment of Jack W. Nannery, 215 Maujer St., Brooklyn 6, N. Y., as Secretary of the Club. Jack has been appointed chairman of the Metropolitan New York Numismatic convention, to be held May 2-5 at the Park Sheraton Hotel, 7th Ave. and 56th St. in New York City. Raymond Gallo, Chairman of the Board of the Metropolitan organization, made the announcement at the dinner-dance. —JACK W. NANNERY

Some 1,650 people attended the three-day fourth annual coin convention of the Santa Barbara Coin Club at the Miramar Hotel. Thirty-eight cases filled the exhibit area with some of the best displays ever seen in Southern California. Robert Burroughs of Bangkok, Thailand, took Best-in-Show, as well as first in foreign coins after 1500 A.D. class, with his Asian money exhibit. Second in this class went to Federico Claveria, for his beautiful display of Mexican coinage; third to Gwen Sentis, Maundy money. In the specialized category, Ray Bower, took first with his complete set of 1909 United States coinage including gold; Gwen Sentis took second with a representative set of the coins and medals of Charles E. Barber; third to John Nichols. United States coins — first, Mrs. George S. Johnson, Lincoln cents; second, Ojai Coin Club, famous Americans; third, Sheldon Wirt, Paper money — Herbert Seidler, first. Gold — Ray Bower, first. Medals, Orders and Decorations — first,

Virginia Hanrion, mission medals; second, Joy Parrish. Also on exhibit, on a noncompetitive basis, was part of the gold collection of Ronnie Carr. Sixty-five dealers were on hand. Also a success was the three-hour bus tour of the Santa Barbara area put together by Ladies Hospitality Chairman Mrs. Bruce Schuette. Walter Ramage was the winner of the Mexican gold set, the grand prize awarded at the end of the successful convention. —GWEN SENTIS, Sec.

With an estimated attendance of over 1,800 persons, the Interstate Coin Club held a highly successful coin show on September 1 and 2 at the Venice Motel in Hagerstown, Md. The show was held during the Hagerstown Bi-Centennial and the Antietam Battle Centennial observances. Visitors registered from at least ten states, and the forty bourse dealers included one from San Diego, Cal. The Washington County Sheriff's office handled the security, with help from other law enforcement agencies, and did such a commendable job that no thefts or robberies were reported. On the evening before the show, the Committee gave a buffet supper in the ballroom with the bourse dealers as their guests. Show chairman was Paul E. Garling. It has been decided to hold a spring show at the same location and definite announcement will be made soon. This Club was founded early in 1961 and now has over sixty members. — PAUL E. GARLING, Chm.

Following a highly successful Fall show, the Interstate Coin Club is planning a Spring show for March 9-10 in the same location. The Venice Motel, a half mile east of Hagerstown, Md. proved quite satisfactory. President John H. Crout reappointed the same members to the committee, headed by Chairman Paul E. Garling. Bourse space will be limited to about thirty-five dealers, with those who had tables at our Fall show being given preference. Communications concerning this or other matters may be addressed to the Club, P. O. Box 901, Hagerstown, Md. We shall use the experience gained at the Fall show to make the Spring affair even better. — PAUL E. GARLING, Chm.

L. to R., Ralph Reno and his son, Ralph, Jr., manned the badges table for the Interstate show.

Following a meeting of the Muskingum County Coin Club on September 5 in the Times Recorder auditorium, President Eugene Milliron announced that the Club will hold its first coin show on February 17 in Zanesville, Ohio. Walter C. Mays, one of the founders and first president, will be General Chairman, and Harry Barclay of Duncan Falls will serve as Bourse Chairman. The prime purpose of the show will be to encourage coin collecting, to assist new collectors, and to stimulate young people to study numismatics. It is expected to attract dealers and collectors throughout the eastern part of the country.

The Colonial Coin Club of Pa. was formed last June for the purpose of "encouraging and promoting numismatic knowledge." Since then our membership has doubled from the original twelve, and three meetings have proved our intention with Sam Burgdorf, Arthur Sipe and Saul Solomon as speakers. Joseph Byers, past president of Philadelphia Coin Club, is scheduled to speak at a meeting soon. Current officers are: President Alex Kaptik; Vice Presidents Elmer Storms, Joseph Diamond and Michael Curran; Treasurer Elizabeth Krebs; and Secretary Charlotte Hindle. We welcome all who are seriously interested in gaining numismatic knowledge to our meetings the fourth Thursday evening monthly at the Newportville Fire House. — CHARLOTTE W. HINDLE, Sec.

The September 6 meeting of Youngstown Numismatic Club was held in Krakusy Hall in Youngstown, Ohio, with 130 in attendance. Mrs. Paul Binsley displayed a beautiful set of the 1962 World's Fair medals and Mrs. Ruth Hammell had a full case of coin jewelry. Glen Marsh displayed what he called "The Elusive Ones," being a 1955 double obverse die cent, a 1922 no mintmark cent, a 1937-D three-legged buffalo nickel and a 1942 over 1 dime. Glen stood by his case with a jeweler's glass and passed each coin to anyone who cared for a closer view. Both Glen and those who looked at the coins recommend this idea to anyone showing such items. This Club, one of the oldest in the country, with a record of over four hundred meetings, welcomes visiting numismatists to its monthly meetings. — GLEN MARSH

The Hunting Park Coin Club meeting of September 8 was attended by 157 members and guests. President Alex Kaptik announced that Jim McNeill and Harry Budd will join him, Bill Grechin, Don Perri, Sam Burgdorf and Bill Dean as auctioneers. Guests are welcome at meetings the second Saturday afternoon monthly in the Mann Recreation Center in Philadelphia, Pa. — JEAN MILLER, Acting Sec.

The Manatee Coin Club of Bradenton, Fla., will welcome visitors to its meetings the second Wednesday monthly at the City Hall. Out of town visitors may contact the president by phoning 722-2782. — VERN OBLISK, Pres.

The 491st meeting of Western Reserve Numismatic Club on September 12 was presided over by Vice President Joe Lukas. Clyde Drewing exhibited his Heath Literary Award medal, which he is quite proud to have received at the hand of Dr. Heath's son at the Detroit A.N.A.-C.N.A. convention. Al Schaefer showed the twenty-two encased postage stamps which won him a second place award at Detroit. Joe Lukas showed bullet money of Siam, and Dr. Sargis exhibited several rare double and counterstruck Spanish coins. Dorothy Humitsch showed some slides of overstruck U. S. cents.

At the Club's October 10 meeting, President Fred Rosenthal displayed medals pertaining to persons with October birthdays, including Lief Erickson, ex-President Eisenhower, Sarah Bernhart, Johann Strauss and Theodore Roosevelt. — FRED N. HAHLEN, Sec.

The Lincoln (Nebr.) Coin Club turned its September meeting over to the junior members. Acting officers were: President Terry Schmidt, Vice President Ronnie Rech, Treasurer Dale Niebuhr, Secretary Sue Schmidt, and Sergeant-at-Arms Connie Calvert. Junior night exhibit awards went to Terry Schmidt, first for nickels; Dale Niebuhr, second for coins of the world; and third to Connie Calvert for coins of famous people. Our first place award in Class A of National Coin Week competition and the scrapbook of it were on display. Jim McKee displayed items he received at the Detroit Convention, such as programs and medals. — ARNOLD L. HIGGINS, Publ. Chm.

Thirty members and eighteen guests attended the September 25 meeting of North Shore Coin Club and enjoyed the film "Let's Take a Trip," which shows the making of a medal at the Medallic Art Company. Guest James J. Babka exhibited his beautiful set of medals which show the different steps in striking and finishing a medal. Among the medals displayed was a rare one in brass of Washington, Baker 289. Members overwhelmingly approved a donation to the Lewis M. Reagan Memorial Foundation. This Club meets the fourth Tuesday monthly except during the summer in the Youth Center in Northbrook, Ill. — JOSEPH M. KOTLER, Corr. Sec.

Some ninety members and guests of Pittsburgh Numismatic Society found the September 27 meeting both entertaining and instructive, thanks to the efforts of Prosper E. DeVos who spoke on numismatic color photography. Prosper opened his talk with a color slide of his name spelled out by using transportation tokens. He showed other slides of copper, silver and gold coins in various conditions and explained the systems used, methods involved, trials and tribulations and results obtained. He concluded by showing slides of colored campaign buttons of the last presidential election. The slides showed items true and clear, and earned Prosper well deserved applause.

On October 20 some sixty members and guests attended the fourth annual banquet of the Society in the Webster Hall Hotel. Following the invocation by Vice President Breyer and an excellent meal, a three part program was presented. Visitors were introduced, including Life Member Ray Byrne and Honorary Member Mrs. Edna I. "Aunt Edna" Hagy. Howard D. Gibbs, an international authority on odd and curious forms of money, gave a fine talk on "Numismatic Jade," tracing the history and composition of jade and explained its position in numismatics. His jade collection was not available for display but its place was filled by color slides of many items mentioned in the talk, shown by Prosper DeVos. All agreed that it was a most enjoyable evening and meeting. — HARRY C. BARTLEY, Corr. Sec.

Seventeen members and guests of Western Pennsylvania Numismatic Society met in Carnegie Museum Library October 2 and enjoyed Duane Feisel's talk on "A Token Collector's Vacation in Michigan." His talk related to a number of interesting tokens which he secured while motoring through Michigan. An unpleasant part of the trip was the theft of his parking meter tokens while he was attending the ANA-CNA convention in Detroit. Duane cautioned us to observe known rules for the protection of our collections. Exhibits were by H. C. Bartley, Jack Burns, Duane Feisel, Richard Foley, R. M. Greig, Robert S. Porter, Phil Williams and Dr. R. J. Hudson. The latter exhibit included Sutter tokens and a picture of General John A. Sutter's home in Lititz, Pa., which he built after returning east to sue the government for land damaged in the California gold rush. The claim was settled out of court for about $30,000, but Sutter died poverty stricken in this house in 1880 and is buried in the Moravian Graveyard in Lititz. — DR. ROBERT J. HUDSON, Sec.-Treas.

The first annual Tri-County coin show will be held April 20-21, 1963 at the Miami County 4-H Building three miles north of Peru, Ind. This venture will be the combined efforts of the coin clubs of Peru, Bunker Hill AFB, Kokomo and Logansport, with the Circus City Coin Club of Peru being the host. Further information may be obtained by writing to Harry A. Clark, RR #5, Peru, Indiana. — HARRY A. CLARK

MONEY TALKS

LAHRMAN SALE ATTRACTING attention and early inquiries, so let's get some of the details.

LOS ANGELES, STATLER Hotel, January 30-February 2nd, the Convention of the Numismatic Association of Southern California, one of America's biggest coin shows.

HALF CENTS, a hot series includes several rare proofs.

LARGE CENTS, one of Lahrman's specialties — a splendid offering for the date collector with many varieties for the specialist. Some 15 proofs are added and these should cause a flurry.

SMALL CENTS, 2¢, 3¢—of course, yes the 1864 small motto in proof will be included!

NICKELS AND DIMES, 25¢ and 50¢, the latter another of Lahrman's Specialties! And Commemorative Halves, as well.

U. S. GOLD INCLUDING Commemoratives features a choice group of quarter eagles as well as other denominations.

PATTERNS FEATURE a group of White Cents which took many years and much money to put together (includes the patterns to form a 15 piece — $2,000.00 item!)

PAPER MONEY AND Fractional Currency, some Philippine Proof Sets and a few surprises will set up some 1200 odd lots to go in two sessions.

CATALOGUES IN MAIL right after Christmas, so clear your desk of all the Holiday Mail and make room for the Lahrman Sale Catalogue.

FREE TO ALL on our regular mailing list and to others on request, the sooner the better — so ask for yours today.

SPEAKING OF HOLIDAYS, may we extend to all our very warmest Greetings of the Season and Best Wishes for 1963.

AND IF YOU want to get something for "that man who has everything," we happen to have an 1876-CC 20 Cents piece at $12,500.00.

OR the 1841 Quarter Eagle at $25,000.00.

POSSIBLY AN 1804 Dollar? Yes, quite possibly — there is one available.

THAT SHOULD BRING our sales for the year to a high level.

KIDDING ASIDE, our thanks for your continued friendly patronage.

TOP PRICES PAID FOR RARE COINS AND COLLECTIONS

Empire is willing and able to pay you top prices for your collection or choice individual pieces. Our large volume of business coupled with our up-to-the-minute knowledge of coin prices enables Empire to pay you top dollar for your coins. The millions of dollars worth of coins, including great rarities, we have handled in recent years is ample testimony to the prices we will pay. Empire has purchased intact many of the finest collections to come on the market.

When you sell to Empire, you get these advantages.

- Immediate offer — Immediately after examining your coins we will make an offer for their purchase. There is no waiting, no estimating of what your coins "might" bring if offered on consignment or by auction. Empire invites competition. Most of our purchase offers are made in competition with others. Our records show that over 90% of Empire's purchase offers are accepted . . . a remarkable record of success!
- Immediate payment — Empire will make payment immediately after our offer is accepted. Payment will be made in any way you desire . . . by cash or by check. If you desire, no mention of your name will be made in connection with the sale of your coins. Many sellers to us prefer anonymity. Financial details of every transaction are kept confidential.

THINKING OF SELLING? THINK FIRST OF EMPIRE COIN COMPANY. We believe that you will like the way we do business. Your inquiry will receive our immediate attention.

THE EXHIBIT CASE MAKER CONTINUES OFFERING ANA TYPE DISPLAY CASES TO CLUBS, DEALERS AND COLLECTORS AT LARGE

Outside Size 2" x 18" x 30" Standard
Outside Size 3" x 18" x 30" Deep

Because of further need and demand by both individuals and organizations, larger lot sizes are being manufactured at lower unit cost. This saving is being passed along to quantity users by discounting ten and fifteen percent per new price schedule. This is the best insurance risk case made.

The CENTRAL SHEET METAL PRODUCTS of SKOKIE, ILLINOIS, is producing and offering the above illustrated case in two sizes. All cases are made of prime grade, 16 gage, auto-body steel, welded fabrication and finished by bonderizing and baking Kortex silicone enamels to produce in several colors a porcelain type of coating. Cases are equipped with a secure cover-bracing arm, double-strength Libby Owen Ford glass and double bitted locks. Purchaser may select individual keyed locks or all locks to fit one key; and duplication of keys formerly acquired can be had. Master keying arrangements will be made up for organization needs. All cases are singly cartoned to mirror packaging specifications. Forty or more cases will be finished to a color selection - please inquire.

STANDARD CASE ... $17.00 each Discount 10 Percent on Forty or more cases

DEEP CASE 22.00 each Discount 15 Percent on Twenty or more cases

In Time for Christmas Giving...
Portraits In Silver
Thomas Jefferson and Virginia

Here's a Christmas Gift that can be appreciated and treasured for many years with ever-increasing value. Portraits In Silver Medals are in high demand by collectors and dealers and the production is limited.

Our newest medal, Thomas Jefferson and with the Virginia Statehood on the reverse, is exquisitely executed in minute detail. All Portraits In Silver Medals offer two medals at the price of one because one side features a president and the other a state. Each president is portrayed in extremely high relief and superbly sculptured to capture the finest detail.

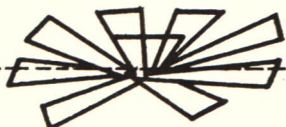

You still have time to order all six medals issued with your registered serial number . . . ORDER NOW and receive your medals individually boxed in time for Christmas giving. NOTE: Why not treat yourself to a special gift and order two sets?

SILVER MEDALS . . . $10.00
.999 fine, serially numbered, limited issue 5,000.

COPPER MEDALS . . . $5.00
Unconditional 5-day Money-Back Guarantee.

An indispensable book for every coin collector

COINS OF THE WORLD

By R. A. G. CARSON

In 640 pages of fascinating text and many beautiful photographs, this monumental new book covers — country by country — the coinage of ALL nations of ALL periods throughout the world.

More than one thousand coins — ancient, medieval and modern — are shown, in actual size, in 64 pages of collotype photographs, ideally suited for the study of fine details.

COINS OF THE WORLD is far and away the most inclusive single sourcebook on coins which has ever been published. This superb volume will enable the collector to identify the coins that come his way and to discover the unparalleled sidelights on history which they provide.

COINS OF THE WORLD is a work that belongs in the personal library of every collector.

We expect to have our paper money bulletin out sometime in January — if not on our mailing list a letter or card will get you one free. This list will contain many items we have never offered or seen before and as usual our prices will be most reasonable — the bulletin will also make a nice reference work.

As usual all items sold with a money back (in full) guarantee. We will send all our orders out during the month of December, air mail.

NUMISMATIC REVIEW NUMBER 6

The sixth and final issue of the Numismatic Review for the year should be ready about the middle of this month. We emphasize the "should" because anything can happen in putting out a publication to delay it and generally does. As usual this will be our Christmas Issue and a special effort is being made to fill it full of the most interesting and attractive coins we can find.

By this time all of our regular subscribers have realized that Numismatic Review Number 5, while it offered the usual varied selection of pieces, emphasized American Coins again. We like to do this once a year. A sampling of various things from this issue is given here for the benefit of those not fortunate enough to have seen it.

COIN GALLERIES

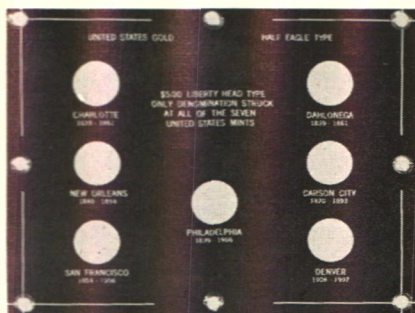

123 West 57th Street

Hotel Salisbury, 2nd Floor

N. Y. C. 19, N. Y.

Established in 1950

Holders are made from genuine plexiglas. All edges are hand buffed, no flame polishing or short cuts that may later on cause glazing (tiny cracks on edges).
 Push coin ports are not tapered, therefore some time and patience is required for mounting but the coins are properly fitted there will all be even across face and will not under normal handling come loose to rattle or turn. For a small fee we will mount coins. All coins are handled with gloves. All printing on holders is double imprinted with heat on gold foil to insure a perfect and permanent printing.

SOME WORDS TO THE WISE ! :

If the price of silver keeps rising, (and experts say it will), IT WILL SOON PAY TO SAVE ANY SILVER DOLLAR for its silver content alone!

Naturally, Silver Dollars of NUMISMATIC VALUE will rise much higher!

Since Dec. 1961, silver has risen from 92¢ per Troy oz. to $1.21! (as we go to Press). When it reaches $1.29 per oz., the silver content of a Silver Dollar will be worth more than a dollar! How soon will the Government, and Industry, accelerate the melting of Silver Dollars?

Watch the Financial Pages of your daily Newspapers, especially the WALL STREET JOURNAL, for detailed information and current prices of silver.

Instead of putting your money in the Bank, where it will earn about 4%, try storing Silver Dollars, particularly Numismatic Dollars, in your Safe Deposit Box at the Bank, and see how much they will be worth in a year, 5 years, 10 years! (And, in emergencies, you can always spend them!)

Since 1878, a little less than 424 million Silver Dollars were struck. In 1918, over 270 million were melted! How many more have been melted since then?

If every one in the U. S. put away only 1 Silver Dollar the Dollars would "disappear"! The Banks would have none, the Federal Reserve would be depleted, even Reno and Las Vegas would be out!

So why gamble? Be SILVER DOLLAR WISE !

START, IMPROVE, or COMPLETE YOUR SILVER DOLLAR COLLECTION NOW !

A GUIDE BOOK of ENGLISH COINS

2nd EDITION

by Kenneth Bressett

$1.00

The Thomas E. Mowery catalogue has been completely revised, enlarged, and rearranged in the style of the familiar Whitman Red-book. It now covers all the coins of the 19th and 20th century. Valuable information, including complete mint records and up-to-date selling prices, is conveniently listed next to each illustration. 128 pages, soil-resistant hard cover.

WHICH COIN DO YOU PREFER?

MICO is a new coin cleaner designed especially for copper coins, works equally as well on nickel, silver and gold coins. We have tested MICO on every possible condition, it works good on XF and AU coins also. Even coins exposed to fire have turned out nice. AMAZING RESULTS usually with the first application; sometimes it is necessary to repeat the application to achieve the desired results. For those hard to clean coins, you owe it to yourself, and your coins to use MICO.

ECONOMICAL: $1 for large 4-oz. unbreakable bottle.

EASY to USE: Simple directions on bottle.

FAST: Works in seconds right before your eyes.

SAFE: Will not harm your most cherished pieces.

VALUE: Adds $$ value to your coins.

FUN: You'll enjoy making your coins beautiful.

COIN MEDALS . . .

The Magnificent Medals of Real Numismatic Interest

A series of beautifully sculptured, numismatically designed medals commemorating famous coin designers. The Augustus Saint-Gaudens and Victor D. Brenner medals, the first two in the COIN MEDALS series, are now ready for immediate shipment, and the Charles E. Barber medal will be ready in June.

COIN MEDALS are sculptured in very high relief on both obverse and reverse by master artist Robert Schabel, and quality struck by The Metal Arts Company of Rochester, New York. The obverse of every COIN MEDAL depicts the finest medallic work of the artist being commemorated, and the reverse, as shown above, symbolizes his work in coins.

COIN MEDALS are issued in bronze, and in a serially numbered pure silver issue not to exceed 5000. Each medal is three inches in diameter, and weigh close to a half-pound in silver, so they are not to be confused with ordinary coin size medals.

PRICES OF COIN MEDALS

The Augustus Saint-Gaudens Medal: Bronze, $5.50, or2 for $10.00
in serially numbered pure silver, in velvet lined case$35.00

The Victor D. Brenner Medal: Bronze $5.50, or2 for $10.00
in serially numbered pure silver, in velvet lined case$30.00

Each medal is accompanied by descriptive folder.

SPECIAL, above two medals in silver with SAME SERIAL NO. ...$62.50

PLASTIC HOLDER AS ILLUSTRATED is $7.00. Other holders; single holder, for medal only $4.00: double holder, shows obverse and reverse of medal, $7.00

Buyers of the Saint-Gaudens medal are assured they can obtain all future medals with the SAME SERIAL NUMBER for a more-valuable matched set, at the issue price of $30.00. You need send only a $10.00 payment now, your order will be acknowledged with your RESERVED SERIAL NUMBER, then pay $10.00 or more a month and each medal beginning with the Saint-Gaudens will be shipped as soon as paid.

We are still buying and selling coins, Half Cents to Gold, Paper Money, Commemorative Half Dollars, etc. For the best prices buying or selling, write us.

It's the Liveliest History Book a Coin Collector Can Have!

Thomas W. Becker's Pageant presents commemorative coins of every country in the world issued during the past 100 years.

History comes alive in excellent illustrations and vivid descriptions of the great events the coins are commemorating. The study is made easy; all inscriptions on foreign coins are translated, designers' names are given, and mint records listed. 208 pages,
6"x9", deep red soil-resistant hard cover.

To preserve, beautify and enhance the value of your coins, we recommend and offer

Our own product, unequalled for cleaning coins, particularly useful on coins of copper or nickel. Easy to use, rapid and economical. In stores a 4-oz. bottle is $1.00. By mail the 3-oz. bottle is $1.00 postpaid in the U.S. or Canada.

Our new product. Use it to restore the color of age to coins which have been cleaned. Introduced in 1962 and 15,000 bottles sold in four months. In stores the 4-oz. bottle is $1.00. The same bottle will be sent by mail for $1.00, postpaid in U.S. or Canada.

"CARE"

Recommended for conditioning and preserving coins. Improves appearance and protects against corrosion. The 2-oz. bottle will treat thousands of coins. In stores, $1.35 or by mail, postpaid in the U.S. or Canada, $1.50

"JEWELUSTER"

We have ourselves used and recommended this dip for more than 12 years; principally for removing tarnish from proof and uncirculated silver coins (Commemorative halves, etc.). 5-oz. plastic jar is $1.00 in stores, or $1.25 postpaid in U.S. or Canada.

"V. M. CLOTH"

For "high-lighting" and improving appearance of badly worn coins. Valuable accessory when used according to directions. Price: 50¢, postpaid in the U.S. or Canada.

Send $4.75 for one each of "CCC," "CCD," "CARE" and "JEWELUSTER" (postpaid) and get the "V. M. Cloth" free.

When we say "postpaid" we mean carefully packaged to meet stiff postal requirements, and safe delivery guaranteed.

DEALERS' INTRODUCTORY OFFER: Get six bottles of "CCC" (4-oz.), "CCD," or "JEWELUSTER" for $4.00 postpaid, or six "CARE" for $5.40 postpaid. Order six each of the four accessories for $17.40 postpaid and receive six V. M. cloths free.

Don't Just Show Them . . . "Present Them"

It's a fact in the hobby that nothing adds elegance to your favorite coins like a Capital holder. Capital holders are made like a fine jewel, meticulously machined for exact fittings of coins, and designed to provide maximum protection. That's why a Capital holder enhances the presentation value of your coins, and that's why Capital has the holder for any set of coins you may wish to beautify and protect. The Canadian small cents holder, pictured above, is just one example, and can be purchased through your favorite dealer for only 16 dollars. For information on the complete line of Capital holders, see your dealer or write direct.

Andronicus II, Eastern Roman Emperor, allowed his fleet to fall into decay so that he had to call in Spanish adventurers to aid against the Turks. He and his son, Michael IX, then had to fight their own mercenaries. When his son died, he then was forced to fight his own grandson and eventually abdicate to him.

We issue quarterly the HESPERIA ART BULLETIN, a profusely illustrated catalog of selections from our stock of ancient coins and Greek and Roman antiquities. Subscription: 2 dollars for 4 issues. Trial copy sent free on request.

FOREIGN COINS

These next months I'll be listing a broad range of fine foreign crowns, patterns, medals and minor coins from several good collections.

Let me know if you'd like to see these in my periodic lists.

If you have a collection, hoard or stock of worthwhile foreign material you'd like to sell through competent hands, I would like to hear of it.

Interesting wholesale lots are sometimes available. Dealers' inquiries are invited.

PRESENTING—LIMITED EDITION

An authorized reprint of the extremely rare and important American Numismatic Society reference work.

UNITED STATES WAR MEDALS

by

Bauman L. Belden

- Seventy-two pages of text
- Printed on fine coated stock
- Large 8½x11 format
- Hard bound cloth covers
- LIMITED EDITION of 1,000 copies
- Detailed photo illustrations on full page plates of medals
- FULL COLOR PLATES of accompanying ribbons

1. IMPORTANCE: The only authoritative History of U.S. War Medals containing original excerpts from all Government Records. Actual size photo illustrations of Medals.
2. REASON FOR REPRINTING: The original 1916 Edition was a limited printing of only 125 copies, and hence unobtainable by the collector in recent years. Thus today it is an invaluable reference source and a highly sought after collector's item.
3. CONTENTS: Historical development of U.S. War Medals from the Revolution to 1912; each medal fully described as to designs, inscriptions, sculptor, die maker, and manufacturer; complete lists of ships engaged in Spanish American War, Indian War battles, and other campaigns for which medals were struck and a complete comprehensive history of the Congressional Medal of Honor.
4. VALUE TO COLLECTORS, LIBRARIES, MUSEUMS: At last, a permanent, valuable source of information. Profusely and clearly illustrated with references not accessible in current books. This work will prove to be of inestimable value to Medalists, Numismatists, Historians, Artists, etc.

CUSTOMER COMMENTS:

"Of all the coin cleaners on the market, BRILLIANTIZE works best on my coins." — Springfield, Mass.

"I recently purchased 75 nickels that were found by a skin-diver friend of mine in Lake Erie; these coins were very dirty and coated with about 10 years of lime, etc. I cleaned most of them with BRILLIANTIZE and they are now in what I call Uncirculated condition, thanks to such a wonderful cleaner." — Buffalo, New York.

"I was very pleased with the first coin I cleaned with BRILLIANTIZE (all the rest, too, of course). It is the best cleaner I have ever used." — Georgia.

"I find it to be the best there is." — Omaha, Nebr.

"I have found this cleaner to be TOPS and am therefore enclosing my check in the amount of $5.00 and asking that you forward me a large size kit." — Pennsylvania.

"I think BRILLIANTIZE is the best I have ever used and it does everything you promise." — Cleveland.

"My fellow coin club members and I in Pensacola have tried your BRILLIANTIZE coin cleaner with amazing results." — Florida.

Our free booklet on care and cleaning of coins is included in each kit. Among its authors is one California coin club president and also the late Burton Saxton who was a leader in the A.N.A.

WHOLESALE FOREIGN COINS

If you are a dealer looking for a source of supply for foreign coins in small quantities, you will be interested in my new wholesale price list. This list offers a wide variety of attractive foreign coins, priced "per 10" at substantial discounts.

Both my wholesale and retail lists are available without charge to dealers requesting them in their letterhead. If you are now selling foreign coins or are considering adding them to your stock, you will find these lists both interesting and profitable.

If you are a collector, why not write for my retail list covering thousands of foreign coins? No charge, of course.
